

ONE STOP WEDDING DESTINATION IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC

Gina Brennan is South Pacific Bridal's principal wedding planner; designing weddings for couples from all over the world since 1995. She handles the most intimate to the most elaborate of ceremonies and is widely recognised as one of Australia's leading wedding coordinators. Angsana Chapel is the only absolute beach front Chapel in north Queensland, and is one of two magnificent, non-denominational chapels purpose built by South Pacific Bridal. Gina and her team, however, can coordinate a wedding ceremony at any desirable location; from coral cays and magnificent beaches to spectacular rainforest settings, botanical gardens and the outback. Gina will guide every decision big and small. She will help choose the dress, book the accommodation, and plan a tour itinerary.

"For my wedding, we had some of our wedding guests stay at the station for up to a week, South Pacific Bridal looked after everything, and I mean everything, Not only the entire wedding, but all the catering for the entire week plus all the little things you just do not think of. Their attention to detail was unbelievable, and everything was done with such professionalism. As we did not have a care in the world, knowing we were in such capable hands, it made the entire week so special."
