Bridal

Alamanda Party in the Palms brings together the finest of Tropical North Queensland's wedding suppliers to present this beautiful, all-inclusive wedding experience designed for up to 120 guests.

If a glamorous cocktail party is more your vibe than a formal sit-down affair, we've brought together the best of the best to deliver your dream to you. A cocktail wedding reception is a more relaxed, informal and social option, with you and your guests having the opportunity to mix and mingle throughout the entire evening. You can still include traditional elements like speeches, dancing and cake cutting, but this style of wedding is more flexible, laid-back and less structured.

Start off with a romantic chapel ceremony (or a beach option is available if you prefer) then team up luxurious furnishings and styling with delicious drinks and a generous canape menu. Your guests will enjoy this opportunity to celebrate your love with friends, old and new.

Alamanda Party in the Palms is a partnership between the best celebrants, photographers, hair & makeup artists, florists, chefs, cake makers, stylists and entertainers – all brought together and managed by your personal wedding planner. The Alamanda Great Barrier Reef Chapel is the only purpose-built beachfront chapel in Australia. Situated within the grounds of the award-winning Alamanda Palm Cove by Lancemore resort, this chapel provides privacy and panoramic views over Palm Cove and the Coral Sea. This thoughtfully crafted chapel features natural materials and is adorned with beautiful fresh florals for your romantic ceremony. A personalised welcome board will greet your guests as they arrive at this stunning location.

Prefer to get married with the sand between your toes? Simply add on a stunning beachfront wedding package including arbour, seating & signage and keep the chapel as your inclement weather backup.

You will also have the opportunity to have a full rehearsal prior to your wedding day, with your wedding planner in attendance. Perfect to settle any pre-wedding jitters and amp up the excitement for your big day.

Choosing the right celebrant is incredibly important. In Cairns we have approximately 200 registered celebrants to choose from.
